No Game There or at Brooklyn on Account of the Shower-Rostons Defeat the St. Louis feam in a Ten-Inning Contest-The Philadelphias Strengthen Their Position-Notes.

The results of yesterday's games on the diamond did not change the standing of the clubs in the race. The battle for the tail-end position between the New Yorks and Cincinnatis was postponed on account of rain, and the conte t at Washington Park, between the Brooklyn and Chicago clubs, was also postponed after four and a half innings had been played, for the same reason. The Bostons won heavy-hitting ten-inning game from the Cardinals, thereby getting further away from the two tail-end clubs. The victory of the Philadelphias over the Pittsburgs strengthens their hold on first place and they are now an even 100 points ahead of the Brooklyns, their pearest rivals. The results: Philadelphia, 8; Pittsburg, 2.

TROUBLE OVER RAIN CHECKS AT THE POLO

There was no ball game between the New York and Cincinnati clubs at the Polo Grounds vesterday afternoon as rain which began to fall a few minutes before the scheduled time for the contest to start soon put an end to all thoughts of a battle on the diamond. The afternoon being a half holiday, there was a crowd of about 3,000 persons on hand to see the sport. They all received "rain checks" as they entered the grounds on which was printed a notice that in case of rain falling before four and a half innings were played the checks would entitle the holders to admission for the next game at the Polo Grounds. This was not satisfactory to a part of the crowd which is not able to attend the games on the Polo Grounds except on Saturday afternoons. The checks would be worthless to them if a game were played any time between now and next Saturday. As there was not even an attempt to play yesterday's game they thought they ought to get their money back, or at least receive a check entitling them to admission next Saturday. After waiting thirty minutes for the rain to stop the officials formally declared the game postponed and then about two hundred and fifty of the spectators went to the main office of the Polo Grounds to see what could be done about the rain checks. They found a squad of policemen barring their way. They could not get within twenty feet of the office and received no satisfaction from either the police or the employees of the grounds. The crowd was very orderly and simply demanded a statement from the club officials on what they proposed to do about it. They received no answer, and finally Richard Sichel, a tobacco merchant of 172 Water street, who was one of those who had requested a statement from the officials on what they proposed to do about it. Mr. Sichel was not aware of this action. He told The Sun reporter before he left that one of the men who had volunteered to see what could be done in a legal way was Clarence W. Clark of 74 Wall street. The Cincinnati team made a ludierous appearance on the field. A recent fire in Cincinnati destroyed all their uniforms and they have had to borrow baseball clothing from members of other teams.

Bain fell in torrents during the last half of the fourth inning of the game between the Brooklyns and Chicagos at Washington Park yesterday afternoon and the contest had to be abandoned. The Brooklyns had scored one run in the third on Jones single to centre, Recler's sacrifice, a base on bails to Jennings, Jones's stead of third and his silde to the plate when Jennings went down to second. In the last right of the fourth the Chicagos came very near to tright, the batter taking second on the attempt to catch Bradley at third. With enlyone out and men on second and third things locked rosy for the Chicagos when suddenly the rain poured down, putting an end to the contest. McGinnity and Farrell for Brooklyn and Callahan and Donahus for Chicago were the batteries. feated Pittsburg this afternoon in a game , which was chiefly noticeable for the Fabian tactics of the visitors, who, to avert defeat, "played for rain." At the end of the fourth laning time was called. To make it a legal game it was only necessary to retire three of the Pittsburgers. President Dreyfuss and Secretary Puliam ordered Clarke to hasten the game to a conclusion but Clarke declared that he was manager of the steam and would do as he saw fit. The rain ceased for a while, and play was resumed, but immediately after the Pittsburg side had been retired, the rain came down in sheets, putting an end to further play. Attendance, 9,000. BOSTON, June 2.—After ten innings of exciting play Boston finally took the first of the St. Louis series on the home grounds. McGraw had so much to say to Emsile about the decision on Burkett's being called out at first in the third liming that the umpire ordered him to the bench, and later off the grounds. His language was abusive, and several other St. Louis players were malefactors in this respect. The accret.

Score of 9 to 3. NEW HAVEN, June 2 .- Princeton outbatted and outplayed Yale in a long, slow game this afternoon, the score being 9 to 3. For Yale the result was a big surprise. The story is briefly told. Robertson, the Yale pitcher, held out for seven innings. Then he weakened The Titers were waiting for this chance. They hammered out three runs in the eighth and two in the ninth. Yale began to make errors and every time she made a slip Princeton scored a run. Capt. Hillebrand by superb batting added run. Capt. Hillebrand by superb batting added greatly to the work of his team. He kept Ralph Hutchinson, the hurdler, away from third base because he went off to the Cornell track games and alterward took two days off.

Cunha, the big Hawsiian, whose friends have been demanding that he be put behind the bat for Yale, got into the game in the seventh inning. Sharpe, at first base, played the best game for Yale. Capt. Camp made an error that marred what would otherwise have been a splendid record. There was a big crowd present and a lot of old-time enthusiasm. The Yale band kept up a continuous programme and led the linging of all the songs that Yale has ever known. Finally Princeton's turn came and a little bunch of Tigers began to sing:

O Yale, O Yale, how we hear the Eli's wai! O Yale, O Yale, how we hear the Eli's wat!!

Princeton played a steady game. Every error that Yale made was singularly costly. The Tigers never lost a chance to score. Yale lost many because she had no man who could hit the ball at critical moments. The score:

Directors Will Decide To-day Whether to Go

WILKES-BARRE, June 2. - The life or death of the Atlantic League is to be decided at a meeting of the directors at Allentown to-morrow. An effort is being made to keep the league on its feet. Newark and Jersey City broke up early in the week, and the Athletics of Philadelphia lost five of their best players the other day because salaries were not paid. Their places were taken, however, by men whom the Athletics had farmed. This is in direct violation of the league rules. To-day Reading dropped out. Wilkes-Barre, Scranton, Eimira and Allentown remain and all of these clubs are on fairly firm footing. Wilkes-Barre will release three men to-morrow and reduce expenses. Scranton will out down its salary

Marine and Field Club Raceabouts. A special regatta of the new 19-foot raceabouts was held by the Marine and Field Club yesterday off the clubhouse of the New York Canoe Club on Gravesend Bay as an added attraction to the annual spring regatta of canocists. There were six starters, the regatia of cancelsis. There were six staters, the Kelpte, J. H. Brown: Flying Fox. H. R. Cone: Quinque, W. G. Smith: Stinger, A. P. Clapp: Sweetheart, A. C. Flske and Skylark, J. H. Elliott. The course was triangular, a mile to each leg, and the boats covered the route twice making it a six mile journey. Keipte won by 4 minutes, with the Flying Fox and Quinque having a battle royal for second honors, the Fox getting there by 4 seconds. The finish was in a driving rainstorm.

CUP RACES AT PARKWAY. Brooklyn Road Horses Again Beat the Speed

way Flyers. The second matinee of the season at the pretty half-mile track at Parkway was held yesterday afternoon, and, despite the side attraction at Gravesend and the heat and threatening clouds, it was largely attended. The Michael Reid cup race for 2:15 pacers was not decided, owing to the fact that only two entries were received. Later Mr. Reid will offer the beautiful trophy when it is boyed there may be sufficient entries to render its competition a feature of the local wagon racing

As heretofore Brooklyn horses and horsemen were in evidence, and the Speedway contingent got the dust. The contest for the Dariel cup resulted in two remarkably fast half-mile heats by the winner, Daphne Dallas, 2:15%, belonging to J. F. Dingee. She paced the closing heat in 1:061/2. hard pushed by the Manhatian pacer, Sir Eld, 2:14%. In the early part of the afternoon Eld was sore, unsteady and far from being a factor, but once he got his legs under him he created not a little enthusiasm by his close finish, carrying the Quartermaster mare to the last ounce of her capacity. Senator McCarty's fast pacer Toboggan, 2:08%, that has been in training all the season at Parkway Farm at Goshen, started, driven by his owner. Many fancied his chances, but he overpaced himself at the quarter pole each trip and got little chance to get to the winner. The big Speedway pacer Jack, 2:121, was not a statier.

As was expected, ex-Sheriff F. D. Creamer's big bay gelding Latitude, 2:15, easily won the Parkway Club's cup for trotters, and after he had trotted the last heat in 1:08½ Mr. Creamer drove the mile out in 2:19½. The big chap tired at the end somewhat and tossed his tal when the whip touched his back. Neverthelessit was somewhat remarkable, insamuch as the GLEN COVE, June 2 .- The events at the Nassau Country Club links to-day were the semifinals and finals in the semi-annual contest for the Maxwell Cup at match play, the opening rounds of which were played on Memorial Day, and a team match between the West Chester Golf Club and a team from the home club composed of five members each. In the Maxwell cup match, which virtually decides the chamionship of the club, great interest was shown y a good-sized "gallery." In the semi-finals J. B. C. Tappan beat Herbert L. Pratt, who won the Maxwell cup the last time by 2 up, and S. Hopkins won over C. H. Pope Jr., by default. The final between Tappan and Hopkins was flercely contested, both players being on top of their game. Hopkins won by 1 up. As the round was played in a heavy shower, which made the course somewhat slow, the following cards are worthy of note.

PLAINFIELD, June 2.—A heavy shower this afternoon kept a great many golf enthusiasts away from the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club course, but it did not prevent the final play for the Chapman cup between W. L. Gleeney, who held the prize until to-day, and Willard Wadsworth, the club champion. These players are two of the best in the club, and the contest from start to finish was watched with great interest. After a most exciting contest Wadsworth won by 3 up and 1 to go. He made the 18 holes in 82 strokes, while his opponent was a close second with 85 strokes to his credit. The cup has to be won three times by a player to become his personal property. It will be played for again next November.
